Members of the Arts & Service League are sponsoring periodic afternoon films for youngsters in Cameron.

It is the only movies available to the youngsters under 12, other than TV, in Cameron.

Kids in this town need something to do and some place to go. There is no school auditorium for plays and cultural attractions. There is no movie house. There are few, if any social functions for high school age in Cameron, particularly in the high school.

We understand the youth center failed to attract regular support, except for periodic teen dances. So it closed.

It would be a good time for the Cameron business community to scrutinize the possibilities of a theatre here, first-run shows which attract teens and adults alike to movies in Temple, Waco, Rockdale and even Austin.

It is without doubt a market exists and could be developed, if the management were available. It would have to start on a tight budget, but it could be done. A&S leaders showed the way.

NOW-NOW-NOW

The drug education program is timely at Yoe High School. We understand the stuff can be obtained in Cameron, contrary to thinking there is some kind of insular wall around Milam County.

Marijuana, which officials in Bell County are clamping down on, is available in Bell County and particularly in the Killeen-Fort Hood area. We are not far from that area.

This is a modern problem which public education and good law enforcement can handle.

We heard a report the other day that officials raided a campus in Kansas, arresting 28 students for drug possession or use. They said it was interesting no more was available.

Point is the problem is here. We can deal with it.

We need only ask teen-agers what they are if they use stuff called "dope."

The light stuff may not damage, but it leads to inevitable need for bigger kicks, which lead only to self destruction.

The smart ones stay busy doing other things. It's a bigger, wider wonderful world without this kind of "kick." In the vernacular, it becomes a "bummer" if not an expensive waste of time.

We can do without it in Cameron and Milam County. But we must know how to contend with it.

POLICE CHIEF COMPLETES LAW SCHOOL

Cameron Police Chief Felipe Martinez was among 18 Central Texas officers who received certificates of completion for the four-week, 160 hour Basic Law Enforcement School Friday.

The school was held at Central Texas College at Killeen from Feb. 1 through 26, with classes conducted from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

Sgt. Leonard M. Hancock, member of the CTC faculty was co-ordinator for the school and was instructor for several of the special courses.

Other instructors were from the Texas Department of Public Safety, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Killeen Police Department; Temple Police Department, and Judge Don Busby of Belton and members of the District Attorney's office in Belton.

Judge Truman Roberts, Judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals was principal speaker at the graduation. Dean Kenneth P. Walker certified the class and certificates were awarded by Dr. Luis M. Morton, CTC president.

Adult Ed Classes Serve 5-County Area

Three more schools have been added to the Milam County Adult Basic and Continuing Education Program, according to Max McClaren, County Schools Supt. and program director.

Classes are underway in the Marlin, Rosebud, and Lott schools. Over 200 students have enrolled in the past two weeks in the Falls County schools.

In addition, a new class has started at the Thorndale school with Willie Mae Dykes as instructor. This class has 17 adults enrolled, McClaren said.

Both elementary school subjects and high school courses are offered in the program. With the addition of new schools, the Milam County School Superintendent's office is now the fiscal agent for the five-county adult education program.

McClaren is assisted by Jack Dennis Ruzicka. Ruzicka has been a member of the Cameron school faculty for the past five years, and is presently working on a counselor's certificate at A&M University graduate school. He will serve as counselor in the ABE program.

"Anyone who would like to improve their educational skills and who has not graduated from grade school or high school is eligible to attend," McClaren said. Applicants must be 17 years old or older, he added.

There is no charge for the classes.

The ABE classes are currently being held in Rockdale, Thorndale, Caldwell, Lexington, Giddings, Hearne, Cameron, Marlin, Rosebud, and Lott.

Anyone interested can get necessary information from their local school offices, or they can contact the county school superintendent's office at the courthouse in Cameron, 697-3001.

"We will be happy to help anyone interested in joining a class," Supt. McClaren said.

Area Roundup

Meat Processors Heard

GEORGETOWN

Williamson County Commissioners held a special hearing last week regarding problems of county meat processors who have been caught in the middle of a struggle between state and federal meat inspectors. Meat processors complained of constant inspections and conflicting regulations. One processor said state inspectors had closed his plant four times in ten days because of confusion over regulations. Dr. Robert Tumlinson of the State Department of Health explained that the staff of meat inspectors was increased from 30 to 300 to avoid being taken over by a federal meat inspection program, and the sudden increase had resulted in misunderstandings about regulations.

Four Seek Council Seats

HEARNE

Four candidates now seek two seats on the Hearne City Council and two candidates have filed for mayor. Tommy Mayfield has filed for re-election to the council and councilman Guy Chandler will not seek re-election, but has filed for mayor challenging incumbent Mayor Jake Abrams. Also candidates for the two council seats are Julian Kwasnica, James Teal and Larry Bossier.

Rattlesnake 'Shake' Set

BURNET

The second annual Burnet Snake Shake and Rattlesnake Roundup has been set for Saturday March 20. This year's program will feature experienced reptile specialists who will demonstrate 'milking' snakes and the crowning of Miss Snake Charmer. Prizes will be awarded for the largest, smallest, prettiest, most unusual, fastest and 'mostest' snakes.

Deputy Tax Clerks Resign

CALDWELL

Three Burleson County tax office deputy clerks resigned last week following charges that county records had not been kept up to date and counter charges that additional employees were needed to handle the tax office work load. In a two hour meeting of the Commissioners Court, Edmund Slovacek, tax assessor-collector for Burleson County, asked commissioners to reconsider a previous decision not to provide funds for additional help for the tax office. A recent audit revealed that the tax department was four months behind in turning in license receipts to the state, two months behind in turning in car titles and the delinquent tax roll had not been posted since 1969. County commissioners were told that the state could impose a $5,000 fine unless tax-assessor collector records are brought up to date. State law requires the license receipts and car title reports on a weekly basis.

School Trustees File

ROSEBUD-LOTT

Four candidates have filed for three places on the Rosebud-Lott School Board. Incumbents Henry Zabcik, James Bell and Marshall Jenkins filed for re-election and Clay Taylor is seeking his first term on the board. Election has been set for April 3 with voting boxes in the Rosebud and Lott gymnasiums.

Contracts Due For 237-Mile Water System

Contracts will be let in about 30 days for construction of a 237 mile water line that will serve rural areas in north and west Milam County, south Bell County and west Falls County.

W. H. McCormick, president of the Bell, Milam, Falls Water Supply Corporation, said they are awaiting some easement agreements to start construction. He said over 600 members have joined the corporation, about one-third of these are in Milam County.

McCormick said that the water line will serve the Milam communities of Sharp, Davilla, Bryant Station, Corinth and to the city limits of Rosebud.

The principal water tank will be north-west of Rogers.

Financing for the water corporation came from a $700,000 FHA loan and a $180,000 federal grant.

Wednesday Deadline For Filing In School Elections

March 3 is the last day for filing in school trustee elections, set for April 3.

In the Cameron School District, Mrs. Reeves (Betsy) Brown has filed for election and incumbent trustee Calvin Cobb has filed for reelection.

In Buckholts, Doyal Arnold and Alvin Fuchs have filed for reelection; and in Rogers, two incumbents have filed for three regular posts, leaving one unfiled at presstime.

C. O. Gunter and Randolph Green have filed for reelection and Daniel Lesikar has filed for reelection for the one year unexpired term to which he was appointed.

Candidates may file with school superintendents or with the board secretaries.

Commissioners Approve RRHA Housing Request

Milam County Commissioners in a called meeting Friday morning approved a resolution authorizing application for low-rent housing in the county.

The resolution requests the Rural Regional Housing Authority (RRHA) to proceed with applications to the Department of Housing and Urban Development for low rent housing.

The county is a member of the recently organized regional housing authority, which is the first of its kind in Texas and includes Bell, Falls, Robertson, Limestone, Freestone, Burleson, Leon, and Milam counties.

Narvie Caperton, RRHA director for Milam, presented the resolution to commissioners.

The regional housing authority is similar to city housing authorities, making homes available to low-income families in rural areas.

In other business, Commissioners Court voted to call an election for May 18, at the request of the Texas Secretary of State. Voting will be on proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution.

City Police Report 2—Car Accident

A two-car accident at 5 p.m. Thursday on N. Travis near the Dairy Queen drivein resulted in heavy damage to both vehicles but no injuries were reported.

According to Cameron police reports, a 1971 Chevelle drive by Karen Kay Bennett of Rt. 1, Rockdale collided with a 1969 Ford driven by Wayne E. Camp of Dickinson. The Bennett vehicle was attempting a left turn off N. Travis into the drivein and was struck by the Camp vehicle traveling south on N. Travis.

WILLIAM M. PROBES

Speaker To Preview Bloodmobile

In conjunction with the Red Cross Bloodmobile visit set for Wednesday, the Ladies Auxiliary of Cameron Volunteer Fire Department will sponsor a program on giving blood Tuesday night.

William M. Probes, manager of the Heart of Texas Chapter and administrator of the Central Texas Red Cross Blood Program, will speak and show a film on giving blood at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the First National Bank conference room.

The program is open to the public, and should be especially interesting to prospective donors who have never given blood during previous Bloodmobile visits.

Hours for the Bloodmobile will be from 12 noon until 6 p.m. Wednesday at Methodist Fellowship Hall. Cameron's quota is 71 units.

"We are hoping to go over the quota like we did last time," said Sister Aloysius, local blood program chairman. "There is never a time when blood is not vitally needed, either here in Milam County or for out-of-region patients."

59 units by Newton Hospital

59 units by St. Edward

78 units by Richards (Rockdale)

171 units out-of-region

Cameron's quota was nearly doubled at the last Bloodmobile visit in December, when 132 units were collected.

HEAD DISTRICT FFA - David Angell, Yoe High Senior, (center) is the newly elected president of the 21 school FFA District that includes more than 2,000 FFA members. Agrarian Penal Code....

Atty - General Crawford Martin suggests a proposed rewrite of the Texas Penal Code, which dates back about 115 years, be tabled for two years.

As the No. 1 counsel for Texas he sees the need to delay legislation which would revise statutes standardizing adjudication and sentencing in Texas criminal law.

He cites the problem of law enforcement throughout Texas, showing major gains yearly in the metro areas and increases in non-metro areas as well.

He suggests it would be well to finesse for two years until the present situation stabilizes and the crime problem diminishes, which would be opposite to the trend of the past decade.

Dallas Dist. Atty. Henry Wade likewise questions the advisability of a change at this time.

The proposed revision came from Texas Bar Association in a 498-page document which is under consideration in the appropriate committees of the Texas Legislature.

It would ease some present restrictions on parole, which would seem contrary to public interests during a period of rising crime. But a main thrust of this proposal is eliminating so many inconsistencies in sentencing and so many, literally hundreds, unused, 19th Century laws from the Texas Code.

In view of the fact that Texas' Constitution is likewise antiquated in its voluminous amendments, it would seem a proposal for reform in Texas Penal laws would be a start toward updating, if not complete rewriting of the basic law of a modern Texas.

Surely, the Legislature can see the collective wisdom of applying the law equally, rising crime rate or no.

The present code would not have seemed to contain the rising crime rate. And no one knows whether the proposed one, if previously implemented, would have had a bearing, one way or another.

Texas is in the habit of amending rather than rewriting its Constitution, for apparent fear that traditions would somehow change with a new document.

It would seem the same attitude enters into the view of this proposed Texas Penal Code.

Surely, now is as good a time as any to strike the unused portions of the old Penal Code and to view those proposals which would modernize a system even older than the Texas Constitution.

Things are not necessarily better just because they are new, the traditionalist would point out. But the same logic applies to the old.

The test should be what works now and in the future, acknowledging the pendulum swings to the center on law enforcement, but acknowledging also the pendulum swings toward the 21st Century in an industrial state with an agrarian Penal Code.

The Working Press Tries....

Seems there is a not unanticipated drag on development of a Code of Ethics for public officials.

Seems now a "full disclosure" would also attach to newsman who enteres the legislative chambers to cover news within the Legislature.

Seems everybody would be embarrassed by required revelation of income of legislators, some because they earn too little and some because they earn too much.

We can't imagine what would be gained by showing income of capitol reporters. We could be badly informed, but nobody ever "capitalized" on doing a competent job reporting for the dailies and wire services in comparison to what such men could earn in public relations or fields where comparable skills usually would be better rewarded.

Like everywhere else, reporters only write the news. The maledictions regularly tossed at them amidst major news controversy like stock manipulations are part of their "reward."

If Texas public officials are chagrined, if not furious at news coverage, they would well study what the U.S. Supreme Court decided last week in reviewing cases from Florida and New Hampshire.

Further widening privilege on reporting on political candidates, Justice Potter Stewart quoted the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes in speaking for the Court:

"Under our system of government, we have chosen to afford protection even to opinions that we loathe and believe to be fraught with death."

The Court reversed libel judgments against newspapers in the two states which printed information about political candidates.

The Associated Press says this lessens the threat of libel suit on coverage of candidates as well as public officials and encourages "more investigative reporting since the shadow of libel judgments has been largely dispelled.

With this, it would seem the Texas Legislature could attend to the business of a ethics code for public officials, a disclosure clause for public officials and forget a working press, trying, like the Legislature, to serve the public.

Ethics Amendment Is 'Deceptive' Says GOP Head

Dr. George Willeford, chairman of the Republican Party of Texas, issued a statement this week summarizing the Party's position on proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 1, the "ethics" amendment.

The statement follows:

"The proposed Constitutional Amendment to place legislative pay and legislative ethics in the hands of a Commission beholden to the legislature is misleading, deceptive, and deserving of contempt and repudiation by Texas voters.

"A code of ethics governing conduct in office is already an existing law. Needed reforms can be accomplished by statute, rather than by a misleading Constitutional Amendment which calls for "private" disclosure of finances, the right of the Legislature to reject any of the Commission's recommendations, and which still fails to provide any method of enforcement.

"It should be noted that during all the recent hue and cry about questionable actions and windfall profits to some of our highest officials, no meaningful effort was made in either the House or the Senate to determine whether any of its members or officers were guilty of violating existing laws or the public trust.

"Instead, a majority of legislators -- for reasons known only to themselves -- dodged their responsibility for investigation and possible housecleaning and concocted a scheme which a Dallas News Correspondent labeled '. . .a way to redeem themselves with the voters and make a dollar in the process. . .' a succinct description of the proposed Amendment #1.

"At this point, one duty confronts Texas voters: The resounding defeat of the falsely-labeled 'ethics' Amendment on May 18 as an outspoken reminder to our legislators that they were elected to serve us rather than themselves -- that only by meeting the requirements of a rigid code of ethics will they merit the public confidence implicit in a pay raise."

Versatile Vinegar Called Homemakers Best Friend

If your're bothered by a sore throat, have bug bites or your house reeks of fish, reach for a bottle -- of vinegar.

At less than 30 cents a quart and considering its versatility, a bottle of vinegar is one of your best buys, reports an article in the current issue of Field & Stream magazine.

Vinegar cooks, cleans, heals, deodorizes and preserves, among its more obvious usages. "Keep vinegar with both camping and cooking gear, in the field and at home," advises Field & Stream.

After you have fried fish, pour some vinegar in the hot frypan and the fish smell will fade away. When you clean up afterwards, add a little vinegar to the dishwater. The acetic acid helps cut the grease.

Cheese will stay moist and soft if wrapped in a cloth dampened with vinegar. Wilted vegetables come to life when soaked in cold water and vinegar. When camping, a dash of vinegar in a canteen spikes the taste of flat or boiled water and makes it a better thirst - quencher.

Vinegar also has many medicinal uses. A teaspoonful in a cup of water does wonders for a sore throat. Applied full strength, it not only repels insects, but eases the sting and itch of bites. It also relieves the discomfort of sunburn.

Far from home and the washing machine, you can soak out clothing stains by adding a little vinegar to the water. It works on spots left from coffee, tea, alcohol, soft drinks, fruit juice, salt water and perspiration. It can also be used to clean mildew from clothing and furniture.

Other possible uses for vinegar suggested by Field & Stream include as a solvent for loosening rusty bolts and hinges, softening old paint brushes, and helping to open clogged drains.

Mrs. Henderson stressed the beauty of the land and flowers in Thailand, and the food served there, although quite different from ours, which they enjoyed.

You Don't Say...

CHAISE

if you are pronouncing it CHASE.

CHAISE is correctly pronounced SHAZE and means a two-wheeled one-horse vehicle for 2 persons.

CHAISE LONGUE (SHAZE LONG) means a couchlike chair having the seat prolonged to support the sitter's outstretched legs.

Although orginally French, this phase has become quite English and quite common. Save yourself embarrassment by KNOWING how to pronounce it.

Senate Committee Reports On Vocational Education

AUSTIN

State regulation of private trade schools and pre-employment group counseling in secondary schools are in a list of 22 recommendations released today by the Senate Committee on Vocational - Technical Education in its report to the 62nd Legislature.

According to the Committee's report, available job skill training is not being fully utilized because prospective students fear they will be defrauded by unscroupulous private school operators.

The legislative report reflects the existence of dishonesty in some private trade and business schools and suggests state regulation as a means to bolster public confidence in legitimate proprietary schools.

A summary of the Committee's recommendations includes changing statutory restrictions on counselor certification to allow the consideration of job experience, as well as teaching experience, in counselor certification.

In the area of higher education, the Committee recommends that at least three universities be designated to implement advanced programs in vocational - technical education.

The Committee suggests that occupational education specialists be provided in each of the state's education service centers, and that local school districts provide funds for housing vocational - technical education programs.

In addition, a state-wide adult basic education program is recommended.

Several recommendations are aimed at bringing cost factors, funding, and student fees up-to-date to vocational - technical education programs.

The report also recommends that teacher training and guidance counseling in vocational - technical education be geared to meet current needs of prospective students to help them solve career problems.

The Vocational - Technical Education Committee is chaired by State Sen. Chet Brooks of Pasadena. Members include Sen. Murray Watson, Jr., Waco, vice-chairman; Sens. Mike McKool, Dallas, David Ratliff, Stamford, and Jim Bates, Edinburg.

Aided by a Citizens Advisory Committee composed of representatives from business, industry, and education, the interim Senate committee held extensive public hearings throughout the state.

BUSINESS REVIEW

Dairy Queen Is The Fun Place To Snack

The Cameron Dairy Queen, at 406 North Travis, is where Milam Countians can "live a little" with delicious sundaes, cokes and hamburgers served in the traditional DQ manner.

Owner A. U. Streetman provides a staff of nine fulltime people and several parttime assistants to assure established Dairy Queen quality for lunch, snacktime or just a family dessert time.

A long line of Dairy Queen products, from cones to parfaits, appeal to children of all ages. And the Dairy Queen kitchen produces a variety of sandwiches, burgers, hotdogs and other short orders to make Dairy Queen a mealtime center as well.

Operating about three years, The Streetman Dairy Queen has ample, paved parking in well-lighted surroundings and drive-in service for those who don't want to get out of the car.

The outside service windows serve people who want to wait in their cars and still pick up their food and dairy delights.

And booth space for 52 people awaits customers who want to enjoy their burger or Dairy Queen special in the clean restaurant side of the structure. Music on stereo juke box adds to the atmosphere for young and old.

Streetman's staff includes Theresa Wise, Mary Buchannan, Carol Mowdy, Caroline Alexander, Karen Taylor, Linda Nichols, Mrs. Nichols, Mr. Eldridge Rhea and Annette Cannon, who prepare the Dairy Queen specials and serve food prepared in the Dairy Queen kitchen. Cooks are Mrs. Moselle Holland, Elenora Bell and Dianne Bell.

Dairy Queen assures local customers from anywhere in the Milam area of the same good service advertised nationally for the thousands of friendly Dairy Queens in this country.

If Mom's tired of cooking, stop by Dairy Queen and take sandwiches and drinks out. If she would like to get a way from the house for a little while, bring her and the family to Dairy Queen for a snack break the whole family will enjoy.

Or if you want to have a last stop after a date, visit Dairy Queen and stoke up on burgers, fries, and shakes.

It is true. When you go to Cameron Dairy Queen, you can "live a little." And not for a whole lot of money.

Drugs By The Department Is The Story At Dusek's

When you say pharmacy, you mean three registered pharmacists--Alvin and son Bernay, and Franklyn Dusek.

A walk through Dusek's is a walk through a departmentalized listing of cosmetic, pharmaceutical and gift notion "who's who."

Dusek's has it.

Several ladies are kept busy serving the customers who find what they want.

Just a sampling of what brands are available: Timex watches, Westclox, clocks, Parke - Davis first aid notions, Sheaffer's pens, BIC pens, foster grant sunglasses, Russell Stover and King's chocolates.

Cosmetics, both men's and women's, headline shelves of name brands like: Black Belt, Max Factor, Old Spice, Tussy, Coty's elan, L'Zimant, Imprevu, Emeraude, Revlon, Ogilvie, Jergens, Noxzema, Gillette, Vaseline, Aqua Velva to name a few of the quite-a-few.

Pharmacists Alvin, Franklyn and Bernay stay busy. One clerk helps type orders as the prescriptions are filled by the professionals. Lines of shelves in walls of pharmaceuticals await the need of a doctor's prescription, whatever the ill.

Delivery is to the home, without additional cost, the day you need the prescription. The pharmacy is as professional as gifts and drugs throughout the store are complete.

The usual line of tobacco products, cigars, cigarets, pipes, pipe tobacco are near the entrance for convenience.

Magazines, newspapers, comics and pocketbooks are available. Christmas and remembrance cards for all occasions by Ambassador and RustCraft await.

Personal articles are also near the front, neatly arranged and gift items like Sunbeam appliances are nearby. Gift items like ashtrays, kitchen bric-a-brac, personal items and notions of all kinds are there.

Yes, Dusek's has it. Only in recent years, the operation expanded into a wider store and the pharmacy department and storage areas were completely remodeled.

An inventory of brandnames and professional pharmacy services are the name of the game.

That's why Dusek's has it for pharmaceuticals and departmentalized drugs and notions.

Some Contributinons Are Tax Deductible

Tax deductible contributions can consist of either cash or other kinds of property, according to A. P. Andrews, administrative officer of Internal Revenue in Temple.

"Contributions must be made to qualifying organizations such as the Red Cross, Boy Scouts, United Funds, churches, nonprofit schools and hospitals, and war veterans groups; but gifts to individuals cannot be deducted even though they are made to needy persons," he said.

Although outright gifts can be deducted, payments to charities for goods or services are not tax deductible even though some organizations may imply they are. Where there is a purchase of goods or services from a charity or payment for admission to a show, banquet or charity ball, the taxpayer is receiving something of value.

When admission is charged to attend a charitable event, only the part of the charge that exceeds the value of goods and services received may be deducted.

For example, if a taxpayer pays $25 to attend a charity affair entitling him to dinner and entertainment worth $10, his tax deduction would be $15. This is true whether or not he went, since the right to attend is what counts.

"Out-of-pocket" expenses incurred in rendering services without compensation to charitable organizations can also be deducted as contributions.

Tippit's Tips

By Floyd Tippit, SES

If you are occasionally irked by the many signs and signals that regulate your highway driving, that's just human nature. But if you ignore those driving aids, that's just foolish.

Have you learned to recognize signs from a distance by their shapes?

The octagonal (eight sided) sign means STOP, of course. But what about the triangular sign? That means he prepared to stop or YIELD. Ignoring the YIELD sign can be just as dangerous as ignoring the STOP sign. If you're lucky, you'll only receive a traffic ticket; if your're unlucky you may be killed.

And remember, for your own good as well as for the condition of the vehicle you drive, the STOP sign means that you should make a complete stop. Sometimes a partial or rolling stop isn't enough.

The diamond shapes warn of unusual conditions or hazard. Vertical signs are regulatory. Round signs indicate railroad crossings.

Learn to live with signs and signals and you'll have more pleasant driving.

Week Set For Trash Round-Up

AUSTIN

Enthusiastic support of the Texas Highway Department was pledged today for "Trash Round-Up Week in Texas" set for April 26 through May 1 by the Texas Legislature.

State Highway Engineer J. C. Dingwall said, "The week will further call to the attention of all Texans the mammoth litter problem confronting the Texas Highway Department the year 'round."

Trash Round-Up Week was designated by a House Concurrent Resolution introduced by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas. It was approved by both houses and Governor Preston Smith signed it February 9.

"The irony of the situation is that this massive effort by the Highway Department maintenance forces could be eliminated if every driver simply would carry a litter bag in his car -- and use it," he said.

The State Highway Engineer also noted that the Highway Department has provided litter containers at hundreds of locations along State-maintained highways for the convenience of motorists.

Melton Heads Gospel Singers

By Alice R. DuBois

Once a year voices ring out to the accompaniment of guitars and tambourine in the Melton home on Scott street. As friends and relatives get together Bob Melton plays the recordings of his musical group called "The Miltonette Gospel Singers."

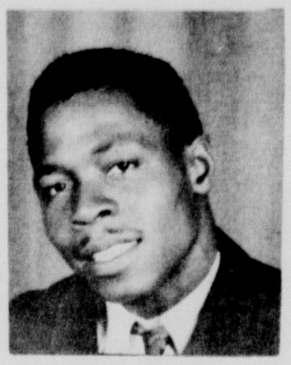
"Bob comes home once a year," said his mother, "and we never know when that will be so we were surprised when he and Earl (his son) drove down to see us Monday from Las Vegas."

The group formed in 1959 has performed in churches and auditoriums all over the United States and in several foreign countries including Germany and France. Their recordings are played in twenty-two states.

Bob, son of Mary and John Melton grew up in the community of Minerva, attending school there. His love of music was encouraged by his music teacher Mrs. J. L. Burke, said Bob, and he participated in solo and group singing in the local church there.

In 1945 after finishing school in Minerva he moved to Cameron in the modest home on Scott street where his mother and sister Magnolia now live. He worked as a cook at Wallgreens, supplementing his income with singing engagements and was a frequent solist in the local Jerusalem Baptist Church.

In 1947 he married Lucky Tucker" and they moved to Corpus Christi where he worked as a cook in Acnes Pharmacy. He joined a singing group called "Stars of Harmony" which toured the major cities in Texas. "The Nightengales" bought him from the Stars of Harmony and he sang with that group from 1951 until he formed the "Miltonette Gospel Singers" in 1959.



BOB MELTON

The group consists of Bob who plays the guitar--four girls, one playing the tambourine and son Earl who plays the bass guitar.

"Don't Let It Be Said Too Late" and "The Storm is Passing Over" are his own compositions and were recorded in Las Vegas by Aszell Recording Company. They are his favorites and most successful recordings having sold almost 25,000 records each.

Members of the National Singing Union, the gospel singers have won the Academy Award for the past nine years.

"Most of the songs are composed by members of the group --inspired by the Bible and experiences in our own lives," said Bob. "We work out our own arrangements."

Mrs. Ruby Mae Williams, Mrs. E. L. Swains and Magnolia, sisters of Bob, live in Cameron. A brother Newman (Rochester) an employee of Burkes Howard and Economy Chevrolet resided here until his death about a year ago.

Visiting with friends in a local garage while having his car repaired, his parting words as he left for his next engagement were "pray for me", which could very well be a title for his next recording.

Dr. Graham Is Geigy Awardee

Dr. O. H. Graham, son of Judge and Mrs. O. D. Graham of Cameron, is among the first four 1971 Geigy Recognition Award winners. The annual presentations honor contributions to agriculture and food production.

In total, members of eight leading professional societies will be honored. Each receives a specially designed bronze trophy and is Geigy's guest for a 10-day tour of agricultural research facilities and farms in Europe.

Dr. Graham, livestock insects investigation leader at the USDA Entomological Research Division at Kerrville, is a graduate of Texas A&M.

One of the nation's foremost authorities on the ecotoparasites of domestic livestock, Dr. Graham has just been placed on special assignment by the USDA to write a comprehensive study of livestock diseases.

Conchologists -- the scientific name for people who collect seashells -- have catalogued some 50,000 species of marine mollusks.

Vacation Guide Lists Fete

Cameron is nationally advertised through a quarter-page, twocolor ad in the 1971 East Texas Vacation Guide. The ad promotes Cameron's Folk Fete, June 11 and 12, 1971.

The city is also keyed with a number and listing on the East Texas Heritage Trail map in the center of the Guide.

Sponsors of the ad include Citizens National Bank, First National Bank, Coca-Cola Bottling Co., Hefley-Stedman Motor Co., Ideal Poultry Breeding Farms, Inc. Marek-Burns-Laywell Funeral Home, Glass, the Florist; Cameron Machine Shop, Mack's Oil Co., and the Cameron Chamber of Commerce.

A record of 140,000 copies of the 1971 East Texas Vacation Guide has been released for national distribution, according to C. Quentin Abernathy, of Gladewater, East Texas Chamber of Commerce president.

The popular Guide's printing is up 40% to answer constantly increasing requests from more than 1,000 travel counselors representing U.S. motor clubs, oil company touring bureaus, and Texas Highway Tourist Bureaus.

Other prime outlets include eleven major travel shows, with initial distribution completed in Kansas City and San Antonio; and in answer to inquiry lists sent to the East Texas Chamber from Texas Tourist Development Agency as a result of its $375,000 national advertising program.

The regional chamber answered more than 60,000 of these individual requests with packets of East Texas material last year, and requests are expected to be higher in 1971, according to Abernathy.

"We're proud of the 1971 Guide," said Alf Jernigan, executive vice president and general manager of the regional chamber. "It's no accident that 44% of the out-of-state visitors to Texas last year listed destinations served by your ETCC. That is even more significant when you consider that more than 22 million visitors unpacked and left behind $1.6 billion. Approximately $704 million of that was spent in East Texas and in the area covered by the East Texas Vacation Guide. Importantly $140 million were left behind in Texas in helpful taxes.

"The East Texas Chamber has printed and distributed nationally more than 3 million Guides and East Texas Fun Maps in the past eight years, and answered every individual inquiry from the state's more than $1 million in national advertising during that period. During that time visitors to Texas have doubled and Texas tourist income tripled."

The 56-page, four-color Guide, now in its eighth edition, has more than 200 color photos and maps, illustrating editorial copy and presentations by more than 400 cities, lakes and attractions.

Strokes are no longer hopeless, according to the Texas Easter Seal Society. Rehabilitation services applied at the Easter Seal Centers in Texas are helping stroke patients and persons crippled by many other conditions along the road to recovery.
